

agriplast[®]
PROTECT. CULTIVATE. ELEVATE.

Trellising J-Hook

Enhance Trellising with Agriplast J-Hook

Agriplast Trellising J-Hook, an 80mm UV-protected tool, supports plant vines by hanging onto trellising wire for sturdy crop growth.

3x

better vine support with secure hooking

2x

longer durability with UV-protected material

4x

easier trellising for improved crop health

Agriplast Trellising J-Hook, available at Agriplast Tech India, is a reliable 80mm UV-protected accessory designed for crop support. Perfect for trellising, it hooks onto wire to securely thread and support plant vines, ensuring healthy growth and stability. Made with durable, UV-resistant material, this J-Hook withstands outdoor conditions for long-lasting use in greenhouses or fields. In stock for immediate delivery from Hosur, it's an essential tool for growers seeking efficient trellising solutions. Visit www.agriplast.co.in to optimize your crop support system with this sturdy, easy-to-use J-Hook today!

Size 80 mm

Delivery Time Immediate

Port of Dispatch Hosur

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Agriplast Trellising J-Hook used for?

It is designed to support plant vines by attaching them to trellising wires, ensuring better plant growth and stability.

What are the benefits of using this J-Hook?

Provides strong and stable crop support Helps in efficient trellising for vertical plant growth Made with UV-protected material for long-lasting durability Easy to install and use

What are the product specifications?

Size: 80 mm Material: UV-protected plastic Delivery Time: Immediate Port of Dispatch: Hosur

Which crops can benefit from using the Trellising J-Hook?

It is ideal for tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, beans, and other climbing crops grown in greenhouses and net houses.

How does it improve crop yield?

By keeping the plants well-supported and upright, the J-Hook helps in better light exposure, air circulation, and easier harvesting, leading to higher yields.